PENALTIES.

Penalty for making, signing or issuing any instrument, document or paper of any kind whatsoever, or shall accept, negotiate or pay, or cause to be accepted, negotiated or paid, any bill of exchange, draft or order, or promissory note for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or denoting the duty hereby imposed thereon, $50; and the instrument shall be deemed invalid and of no effect; or for counterfeiting stamps or dies, $1,000, and imprisoned to hard labor not exceeding five years. OTHER PROVISIONS.

Instruments are not to be recorded unless properly stamped.

No instrument is invalid for the want of the particular kind of stamps designated, provided a legal stamp of equal amount (except proprietary stamps) is duly affixed.

All official instruments, documents, and papers issued or used by officers of the United States government, or by the officers of any State, county or other municipal corporation, are exempt.

In cases where an adhesive stamp shall be used for denoting any duty imposed by this act, the person using or affixing the same shall write thereon the initials of his name, and date upon which the same shall be attached or used, so that the same may not again be used, under a penalty of $50.

The party to whom a document is issued from a foreign country, or by whom it is to be issued, shall, before using the same, affix thereon the stamp or stamps indicating the duty required.

Proprietors of cosmetics, medicines, or proprietary articles, may furnish private dies, and are allowed 5 per cent. on all purchases of $500; over $500 10 per cent.

THE AUTOMATIC ORGAN.

In presenting the AUTOMATIC ORGAN, we boldly announce the greatest triumph in musical instruments of the age. During the past half century, the French and Germans have manufactured reed instruments with double bellows, and two pedals for the feet to operate; but the want of the reversed or EXHAUSTION BELLOWS, (which is the only bellows used in our instruments,) made it impossible for them to produce the mellow, rich and musical tone for which our instruments are celebrated.

Another objection to this method of blowing was, that both feet being occupied no opportunity was offered, for the management of the swell. Within the past two years, instruments constructed on this European plan of "double blowers" have been manufactured in this country, and to counteract this difficulty (want of a swell) a lever has been projected from the centre of the instrument, to act upon the swell, and operated by the knee The inconvenience and contortion necessary to effect this object, are disagreeable enough to a gentleman, but to a lady the use of such an appendage is nearly impossible.

Our AUTOMATIC device obviates this difficulty entirely, the simple act of blowing with more or less force, giving the desired increase or decrease in the volume of the tone We predict for this invention a brilliant future.

The Melodeon and School Organ.

For seventeen years the superior excellence of our Melodeons has not been questioned, and for two years past the enormous demand has made it impossible for us to meet our orders promptly. With our increased facilities we feel warranted in assuring our patrons that their orders will be promptly met, and solicit a continuance of their patronage.

GEO. A. PRINCE & CO

Caution to Purchasers.

All of our instruments have upon the name board in full, "GEO A. PRINCE & CO"—When a dealer represents any other instrument as "the same as ours," it is usually a mere attempt to sell an inferior instrument on which he can make a larger profit.

MANHOOD:

IN THE YOUNG AND RISING GENeration, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country This is one of the worst movements. Removed from the ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation, and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it feeds on and the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain; the parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT

OF BUCHU

For Weakness arising from Excesses, Early Indiscretion,

[illegible] with the following symptoms: [illegible] to Exertion, Loss of Power, [illegible]ory, [illegible] of Breathing, [illegible]kness, Horror of Disease, [illegible]trembling, [illegible]ful Horrors, Sweating [illegible] Feet, [illegible]ness of Vision, Languor, [illegible] Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such Patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread for Fear of Themselves, no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson, at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients: reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases Insanity and consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholoy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds his grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences—

DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR,

Jonathan Worth

OF RANDOLPH COUNTY.

Death of Gov. J. M. Morehead.

We learn from the Wilmington Journal received this morning, that Gov. Morehead died at Rockbridge Allum Springs, Va., on the 28th inst. He was one of the most remarkable men of the State, and as connected with the great works of internal improvement now complete, has probably left a greater impression upon the history of North Carolina than any of her sons who have preceded him.

He was born on the 4th July, 1798, in Rockingham county, and graduated in 1816 at the University of the State. He represented his native county in 1821, in the Legislature, and the county of Guilford in 1836. In 1841 he was elected by the Whig party as Governor, defeating the Hon. R. M. Saunders. He was re-elected in 1843. Gov. Morehead's last political service was as a member of the Peace Conference which assembled in Washington in 1861, and vainly attempted to check the impending struggle. He was intimately connected with the construction of the North Carolina and the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroads, and the first President of the [illegible] the completion of the Danville and Greensboro' Railroad was mainly due to his continued and persevering efforts.

Always differing with Gov. Morehead, politically, we have been an admirer of his course during the great ordeal through which we have just passed. North Carolina can ill afford to lose the services of such sons in this crisis.

STOP TALKING.

The New York Express commends the conduct of the Southern delegates at Philadelphia because they recognized the propriety of silence. The thing it remonstrates against is, not the freedom of speech, but the abuse of it. Free speech is one of the good things of which a community or a man may have, not unfrequently, a little too much. We have been running strongly in that direction, for some years past, and it will do no harm to rein in a little now.—Carlyle says gab is the besetting sin of the Anglo-Saxon race, and so it is. The Swedish legend says, "speech is silver, but silence is golden,"— and there is much higher authority for the declaration that, "whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from trouble;" also, "that a man full of words shall not prosper on earth." Words are largely responsible for much of our recent troubles. Our public men have been full of words. Probably we shall be more prosperous when we are less loquacious. At any rate, it will do no harm to give the experiment a fair trial. These remarks apply as forcibly to editors as stump politicians.—Too much gab brought the war on. Too much gab choked the Confederacy to death, and killed off a host of gallant men.

A good deal of wisdom, no doubt, in the remarks of the New York Express. The "too much talk," unfortunately, was in the wrong direction, just as there is too much talk now, by the Radical papers in this State—they create a false impression at the North, and this is the harm which is accomplished thereby. We, are at all times, an advocate for the freedom of the press; but, when such palpable injustice is being done by these malcontents, it is time that their mouths should be closed. If they are so blinded to their own interest as to run madly into the arms of destruction, the sane portion of society should put every man of them in straight jackets, and muzzle their mouths so that they may not retard the work of reconstruction which has been commenced.

Those who talk for the rights of the South, against Radical oppression, cannot talk too loud or too much. Every hill top should have its orator, and every orator his trumpet, to proclaim aloud the willingness of the South to reconstruct upon President Johnson's plan, and to warn the people of the ruinous policy of the Radicals.

Too much talk, alas! ruined the cause of the South; too much talk placed many thousand good and true men in their graves; too much talk caused brave confederates to grow luke warm, and desert their colors; and too much talk caused many a North Carolinian to be shot for desertion. This is the kind of gab that there is too much of now—and when will it cease? Let us be careful, prudent and watchful; an important crisis is upon us; the helmsman is bold and practiced, but the wiles of the enemy may prevail, and plunge us into another civil strife.

ORGANIZE.

Some four or five weeks only remain, before the people of North Carolina will be called on again to exercise the right of franchise, and we have no time to lose in getting ready for the contest. We fully concur with the Sentinel that the time has fully arrived, when the friends of President Johnson's policy and of Gov. Worth should at once hold County meetings and nominate their best, most reliable and able men for the next Legislature. There should be immediate organization in every County in the State, and a full corps of unmistakably Johnson-Worth candidates brought out. Let no timidity, no time-serving policy, no local interests, prevent the bringing out of the right men for the Legislature at once. Where candidates have already announced themselves, as is the case in some instances, who are of the right stamp, let them be endorsed by the friends of the President and of Gov. Worth.

It would be a suicidal policy, were the friends of Gov. Worth and Johnson, to fold their arms, and sit quietly down, under the impression that the Radical element will not have candidates in the field. Their leader is a practiced wire-worker, and looking to self-preferment, at some future day, will "harness his tools," as the teamster does his mules, and drive them at the [illegible] thorough organi[illegible] be idle "nonsens[illegible] that his policy [illegible] in some localities. The State must be kept free from such a stain, and to do this, let every county act, and that promptly, upon the above suggestion.

ELECTION IN OCTOBER.

We were in error in supposing that the time for holding the State Elections was incorporated in the amended Constitution, and that having been rejected, we would be without an election unless ordered by the Governor. The Sentinel sets us right:

Our cotemporary is mistaken. All the ordinances and acts of the late Convention, which incorporated new matter into the Constitution recently rejected by the people, fail. But all ordinances or acts, adopted by that body, which have been heretofore ratified by the people, form a part of the Constitution of the State and are in force; as, also, all those ordinances or acts adopted by the Convention, but which have not been submitted to the people for ratification, are the law of the State and in force. The ordinance, therefore, changing the time of the annual election for the present year, not having been submitted to the people, holds good, so that the election, as provided for, comes off in October.

Mr. D. L. McGary, editor of the Brenham (Texas) Banner, has been arrested by Capt. Craig, of the Freedmen's Bureau, for some strictures on the course of that official.—We are inclined to think that this Bureau splinter will be "cut short" by the President. The editor says:

The jurisdiction of Craig's Bureau extends, as we understand it, only to refugees, freedmen and abandoned lands. Under which of those heads we wonder do we come. We are not a refugee: we are not a freedman. Perhaps we may be abandoned lands.

Cool Impudence.—The editor of the Weldon State recently sent a bill for advertising to a Northern house, and in return received the following cool reply:

Dear Sir:—Your favor of the 17, accompanied with a bill of $17, is at hand. Having commenced business without capital, my condition is a good deal similar to that of an editor down South, who said, "that if salt was selling at two cents a barrel, he could not buy enough to pickle a jaybird." Hoping that this arrangement may be satisfactory to you, and intending, the Lord willing, to give you more work in the future, I remain

Very truly yours,

B* T*.

The New York World is confident that the Conservatives will carry Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.—We wish they could carry New England also—out of the country.

There has been another revolution in Paris—in the skirts of ladies dresses.

☞ There was a great Johnson meeting in Washington city on Saturday night.—People by the thousands, orators by the half-score, enthusiasm in abundance among the speakers, who drew the following picture of radical taxation:

You will go on and on till taxes come on you sufficient to crush you and your children for all time to come, and the first thing you know you will have another civil war, and the historian will come round and write upon the tombstone of this great nation: "In an unsuccessful attempt to give liberty to the negro this nation lost its own independence."

Therefore, I say protect yourselves. Instead of devoting yourselves all to four millions of blacks, remember that there are here thirty millions of whites; and if you do not, your taxes will go on and on increasing till you sink beneath the burden.

Mr. Chairman, even now you can't go down to buy a box of matches without finding, when you turn it up to scratch the brimstone against it, the infernal revenue stamp upon the back of it.

A lady can't go down to a drug store to get something to give lustre to her waterfall, but when she turns up the bottle there is the infernal revenue stamp upon the bottom of the bottle.

A lady who has heard of the sweetness of the first kiss of love cannot buy a bottle of perfume to add to it the seductions of the odorous night-blooming cereus, but turn it up and there again is the infernal revenue stamp. (Laughter.)

Your little boy is cutting his teeth: you can't buy a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's soothing syrup but there again is the infernal revenue stamp—the little dear can't cut his front teeth till he pays a tribute to the Government. [Laughter.]

You won't have long to wait for the time of his cutting his teeth; soon in some side chamber before he cries his first cry, or squeal his first squeal, they will turn him up and clap a stamp on. (Great laughter and loud cheering.)

The Arm-and-Arm Arrangement.—The Augusta Constitutionalist gets off the following on the melo-dramatic feature of the Philadelphia Convention:

TOO THICK TO THRIVE.

"Thar was"—says the great Artemus in his account of that episode, his wooing—"thar was affectin' ties that made me hanker arter Betsy. Her father's farm jined our'n; their cows and our'n squenched their thirst at the same spring; our old mares both had stars in their forreds. The measels broke out in both families at nearly the same period. Our parents (Betsy's and mine) slept every Sunday in the same meeting house, and the nabers used to observe, 'how thick the Wards and Peasles are!'"

Now, to borrow again from the great Artemus, one scarcely knows where to look for a thing "more a-proposer" to the times than this. It involuntarily recurs to mind at the thought of all that huge fanfaranade wherewith the Philadelphia Convention was gotten under way—the tooting of horns and playing of "Dixie," the rising of delegates and cheers for "Hail Columbia," the clap-trap of the Chairman, and the entrance of South Carolina and Massachusetts cheek by jowl. This latter little theatrical touch in especial is fearfully after the fashion of A. Ward, showman, and his Betsy Jane.

His Excellency, Governor Orr, diffusing, let us imagine, conciliation at every pore, appears on the floor arm-in-arm with Major-General Couch, of the Federal army. What a self-abnegatory spectacle was here! What a lying down of the lion and the lamb together! And what wonder that the sublimest emotions were so appealed to that delegates melted into "tears." Think of it, kind Heaven, just think of it, that here were eight thousand patriots assembled who wept as with one single eye.—Debarred of entrance by a chivalrous devotion to the South that never wavered, even Clement L. Vallandigham and Fernando Wood, let us imagine, stood afar off and wiped a pensive tear. But human nature is not calculated to stand these terific excitations of joy; strong feeling is apt to become painful, and how well timed it was there came upon the air strains of dulcet music from a band of fifty pieces. Blow on! great trombone come in with thy mellow warble, opheicelide—thump for thy life, thou drummer, and scrape about and spare not, artist with the big bassoon. Tears of joy have yielded place to shouts of triumph—sixteen thousand eyes are dried and eight thousand tongues vociferate. A roar goes up that shakes the wigwam, and hark! was that an echo that meets it as it dies away? Listen! it yet trembles on the air—what is it? Pah! 'tis nothing—only the footfalls of Vallandigham and Wood, who, shut out from this great lovefeast of them that have the wedding garment, are going away—of Wood—Fernando Wood, who this day can carry, if you put him on his mettle, the great city of New York against New England; and Clement L. Vallandigham, who suffered all but martyrdom for his principles, was exiled because he would not help throttle the South, and is going to his home in Dayton, where the panels of his house door show to this very day the mark of tyranny's musket butts and axes.

Interments of Federal Dead.—The following statement exhibits the number of interments of Union soldiers made by Lieutenant Colonel Moore, A. Q. M., up to June 30, 1866. In the cemeteries in and around Washington, 19,815; Andersonville, Georgia, 12,912; Hampton, Virginia, 3,141; Belle Isle, Virginia, 155; Ball's Bluff, Va., 51; Winchester, Va., 5,700; Coal Harbor, Va., 1,930; Malvern Hill, Va., 1,077; Seven Pines, Va., 1,335; Fort Harrison, Va., 746, to be increased to 3,800; Fredericksburg, Va., 2,442, to receive probably 15,000 bodies; Congressional Cemetery, D. C., 151; Hollywood, Va., 237; Oakwood, Va., 210. The total number of bodies intered by the burial corps under Colonel Moore is estimated at 49,112, and it is supposed that fifty thousand bodies yet remain to be removed and intered. The average expenses attending the reinterment of each body is $8.

BAZAAR IN RICHMOND,

For the Benefit of the Hollywood Memorial Association.

An Executive Committee has been apyointed to arrange preliminaries for a Bazaar to be held in Richmond in February next, for the benefit of the Association.

This committee held its first meeting, August 15th, at the lecture room of the 2d Presbyterian church, and the ladies present manifested a zeal zeal for the cause, and a unanimity of purpose that was a sure indication of success.

The co-operation of all persons not only in our own city, but in every county of our State, and in every part of the South, is earnestly desired.—Contributions from each of the southern States are essential to the success of the scheme, and the names of ladies, who will assist in the undertaking, may be forwarded to any member of the Executive Committee, and circulars with definite plans of action will be furnished them.

Editors in all parts of the South are respectfully requested to extend this notice.

Donations from merchants, manufacturers, farmers, &c., will be thankfully received, and can be collected through the winter. The ladies are especially appealed to for every variety of domestic supplies, pickles, preserves, butter, &c., and notice will be given of the proper time to furnish these articles.

It is very desirable to engage the services of young people and children as experience has fully shown how untiring and successful are their efforts, and how warm their devotion to the object we have at heart, and they are invited to form little societies, auxiliary to ours.

By concert of action, it is confidently believed a sum may be realized worthy of our sacred cause.

The Executive Committee will be enlarged as the labors increase, and additional services are required. The organization is as follows:

Mrs. Lewis N. Webb, president.
Mrs. Lewis D. Crenshaw, Mrs. Jas. Lyons, Mrs. Dr. Haxall and Mrs. R. W. Ould, vice presidents.
Mrs. C. Gennet, treasurer.
Mrs. Wm. Baown, secretary.

MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE.

Mrs. Dr. C. G. Barney, Mrs. L. D. Crenshaw, Mrs. Jefferson Archer, Mrs. Lucy Walker, Mrs Ben. Smith, Mrs. T. W. Doswell, Mrs. Dr. Higginbotham, Mrs. T. Brockenbrough, Mrs. Chas. McGruder, Mrs. James B. McMurdo, Mrs. R. W. Ould, Mrs. James Lyons, Mrs. Dr. Haxall, Mrs. Wm. N. Bell, Mrs. Alfred Harris, Mrs. John Purcell, Mrs. W. M. Elliott, Mrs. Thomas Ellis, Mrs. W. Jenkins, Hiss R. Meyers, Miss Mary Sherrard, Miss Jennie Ritchie, Miss Isabella Webb, Miss Lizzie Nicholas.

This Executive Committee will meet on Monday, August 27th, at the lecture room of the 2d Presbyterian church, at 11 A. M. They will be prepared to distribute work, and any one desiring to give or obtain materials, or patterns, can meet the Committee on that day and every fortnight during the fall and winter.

LATEST NEWS.

The President in New York.

New York, Aug. 29.—The President was met by delegations and crowds of persons at Burlington and Trenton, New Jersey, where demonstrations of respect were paid him. He arrived here this afternoon, and while crossing the river thundering salutes were fired. At the pier he was received by different municipal committees and citizens, among whom were Alex. T. Stewart, Wm. B. Astor, Commodore Vanderbilt, Moses Taylor and others. He was then escorted to City Hall, where Mayor Hoffman welcomed him formally to the great Metropolis, to which he replied in felicitous terms. Subsequently the heads of the city departments were presented, and shortly afterwards the President was escorted up Broadway by a military and civic procession, and finally to Delmonico's corner, 14th street and 5th Avenue. There the military passed in review before the President, the officers saluting and the soldiers and citizens cheering.

This evening the President and party will participate in a splendid banquent at Delmonico's, and will afterwards proceed to the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The march of the procession was witnessed by hundreds of thousands of spectators, the number exceeding, if possible, that which lined that great thoroughfare on the occasion of the funeral honors to the late President. The civil and military authorities co-operated with the citizens' and merchants' committee with remarkable unanimity, and thus gave to their distinguished guest the grandest reception ever accorded to any public personage during our day, and the genuine enthusiasm manifested seems to mark it also as a spontaneous ovation of the people to the champion of their rights and liberties.

Mr. Raymond and the National Union Executive Committee.

New York, Aug. 29.—Mr. Raymond has met the threats to expell him by calling a meeting of the National Union Executive Committee, by virtue of his position as Chairman. Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, has written a letter thereupon, and denounces Raymond, by saying that he is a betrayer of his party, and repudiates said call.

Nominations for Congress—The action of the Municipal Authorities of Philadelphia toward the President and Party.

Philadelphia, Aug. 29.—J. Lawaence Getz, Democrat, editor of the Reading "Gazette," has been nominated for congress in Burks district. In this city the republicans have nominated for congress, Wm. G. Kelly, Leonard Myers, Charles O'Neill and Joseph R. Syndhall.

The democrats and conservatives who support the President's policy, express great indignation at the course of the municipal authoritics in refusing the hospitalities of the city to the President and party. By this action, or refusal to act, our officials have placed themselves in an exceptional position, all other cities having tendered their hospitalities.

PRESIDENTIAL TOUR.

Baltimore, Aug. 28.—President Johnson and party left Washington at 7:30 this morning. At each station persons were congregated to pay their respects, and everywhere the President was received with manifestation of delight. At Annapolis Junction, Gov. Swann of Maryland, welcomed him to the State, and accompanied the party to Baltimore.

On arriving in Baltimore the excursionists were met by a committee of forty citizens, with the Mayor as their chairman, and escorted in open carriages to the President street depot for Philadelphia. Large crowds were gathered both at the railroad stations and along the line of the procession, to get a view of the excursionists, who were greeted by the waving of hats and handkerchiefs, and deafening cheers.

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 28.—Here, as at other places on the line of the road, the President has been greeted with hearty good feeling and was formally received. After his brief remarks, by request, the President appeared on the rear platform, when the surging crowd pressed forward and many shook his hand. The car and workshop windows and balconies were crowded with spectators repeatedly cheering, and occasionally band of music playing, amidst the extraordinary excitement.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—President Johnson arrived this afternoon, and was welcomed by Col. Jas. Page in behalf of the merchants and mechanics, irrespective of party, as the Chief Magistrate of the Republic—the chosen protector of their rights and liberties. That through him the Union of all the States could be restored, and peace reign in fact as well as in name.

The President said he knew how to appreciate a reception from the people of Philadelphia. He trusted peace had come—permanent peace, and that war had ceased forever. We have had war enough. All his efforts had been to restore peace and permanent reorganization of the Government.—The President's remarks were greeted with great applause. Gen. Grant was also cheered. The President was then escorted by the military under the command of Genl. Meade, and civil bodies, merchants, &c., to the Continental Hotel, where he subsequently addressed the vast crowd.—He will be serenaded at 11 o'clock to night.

☞ The Route Agent on the Atlantic Road refused to take our mail, on yesterday, 29th, for Kinston, alleging, that there was no post master at that place—the p. m. having committed suicide a day or two previous. How this may be, we do not know; but we do know that we received a letter from Kinston post marked the 29th, showing very conclusively, that a deputy p. m. is at work in that place. We have in our possession, now, the envelope bearing the Kinston Postmark. If the facts were as stated, by the Route Agent, he had no right, then, to refuse to take our mail, it was his duty to take it, and deliver it to the next nearest post office. This, we know to be the rule, for, in the capacity of Route Agent, we served the U. S. government six years, and the Confederate Government, four, and profess to know something of post office regulations.

Mrs. Ransom's Seminary.—We direct attention to Mrs. Ransom's advertisement with much pleasure. We had heretofore announced that it was her intention to open, this Fall, a first class Seminary for girls and young ladies. One of the most eligible positions in the city of Wilmington has been secured, and a corps of first class teachers engaged, and thus we have the assurance of the establishment of a Seminary for young ladies, under the superintendence of a lady whose position and acquirements warrant us in anticipating great benefit to the patrons of the Institution.

We are not disposed to be meddlesome in the affairs of other people, least of all are we disposed to find fault with the private habits of our neighbors and associates. It makes no manner of difference to us if people will chew rosin, sweet gum, tobacco and "such like," or eat conchs, snails and other vermin; we are even charitably disposed towards people who feed on chitlings and rats, but we do most unequivocally set our face against the very prevalent habit of snuff dipping by the younger members of the female portion of our community.

When females are advancing in years, we are in favor of their seizing upon every means of lawful enjoyment, even though it extend to snuff dipping and pipe smoking; but we look upon it as an inexcusable and disgusting habit in young, beautiful and intelligent girls. We are led to make the foregoing remarks by the following circumstance.

On Sunday evening last, after enjoying the privilege of divine worship, we took a stroll through the main street of our town for the purpose of exercise and proper reflection. It was a lovely evening, and as we wended our way leisurely along, the spirit of peace stole over us, and filled us with emotions of pleasure. We had been thinking of one near and dear to us, and blessing for her sake the whole race of womankind, when suddenly, raising our eyes, we beheld a sight not easily to be forgotten, nor pleasant to be remembered. Seated at the window of one of the most handsome residences, were a number of young and beautiful girls in the full enjoyment of a social dip—working away as if the sole end, object and aim of their terrestrial existence was to destroy as much snuff and blackgum as possible in a limited life time. We came down like a rocket-stick from our eminence of peace and comfort, and all that sort of thing, and reached our proper level in a second.

We resent the spectacle forced upon us, and we notify them, that they are responsible for the ill humor with which we were afflicted for the remainder of that day.

Changed to Mud.—A young lady whose name was Mayden, married a gentleman whose name was Mud, which gave rise to the following epigram:

Lot's wife, 'tis said, in days of old,
For one rebellious halt.
Was turn'd as we are plainly told,
Into a lump of salt.

The same propensity of change
Still runs in woman's blood;
For here we see a case as strange,
A Mayden turned to Mud.

The Origin of Soap.—A French journal has a learned article upon the subject of the origin of soap, in which the popular idea that it was first manufactured in Italy during the fifteenth century is controverted. The journal in question states that the ancient Gauls used soap, and that the Romans also did so, there being evidence of its manufacture at Pompeii. The ancients are said to have made it of olive oil and wood ashes. There is, however, as great mystery hanging over the origin of soap as there is over the first appearance of many other asticles in common use.

The Fashions—Newest Styles of Fall Bonnets—Something for the Ladies.—The summer is nearly gone, and nature is about exchanging her robes of green, for brown and golden hues. So the ladies are discussing the latest styles of Fall bonnets and costumes, with the desire to aid them as much as possible in the matter of toilette, we compile a description of a very few of the latest "sensations" in Fall bonnets and hats, which in all conscience appear to be growing,

"Small by degrees, and beautifully less."

The shape of the bonnet is a cross between the empire and the gipsy.—The crown, as in the empire, is small and rather square, but does not rise above the level of the rest of the bonnet. There is a small curtain attached to it, and this almost identical with the empire curtain. In other respects the gipsy shape is almost unaltered. A bonnet of this shape, made of pale purple uncut velvet, was trimmed with velvet pansies, white and purple, with black lace, and with real jet ornaments. The strings were of broad watered ribbon to match. Another shape, very curious, indeed, resembles a small square cap, without either crown or sides or curtain. The front was formed with a ruching of white tulle, and was woven into the bonnet, if bonnet it can be called. The square portion which formed the headpiece was made of emerald green ribbon velvet about an inch wide, interwoven in honeycomb design. The front trimming consisted of one blush rose, with a few leaves and buds set in the ruche, and the strings were of wide green ribbon, and intended for tying at the back beneath the chignon. Another head dress of the same shape was made in the same honeycomb design, with narrow white ribbons interwoven together.—The front was formed of a pretty mass of tulle, lace and rosebuds, and the strings were of white tulle tied under the chin. Jet trimmings for bonnets will be very general, and the only fault will be its weight, for jet is very heavy. But even this fault may prove a blessing, as it will necessitate a very moderate amount of trimming, which will be a great improvement on the usually over laden condition of bonnets. At Mrs. R——— a small oyster shell shaped bonnet, made of soft white chip, was trimmed with a small and slender wreath of myrtle leaves in jet.—Strings of crimson velvet ribbon, tied beneath the chignon.

In round hats the latest novelty is called the Gladiator, in honor of the recently celebrated French horse who won the Derby, or something, in that way, at the English races. It is quite a long time ago, however, and somewhat strange that nothing newer could be found by which to christen a new hat. In view of the near approach of the great Italian ragedienne, we suggest that some hat, or bonnet or cloak or sack, or one of each, be called the Ristori. It will undoubtedly be a popular name.

The Gladiator is one of the prettiest hats that we have ever seen. It is an enlarged size of the snow-flake, with a drooping brim both back and front. It is luxuriantly trimmed, with a rich and flowing willow plume; some have two feathers—one ostrich feather and a willow plume too.

For dresses and mantles, the new Fall goods have not been yet received. In ornaments there is little change except for the worse, and we omit a description because aware that our beautiful Goldsboro' ladies have little use for them. With them

"Beauty unadorned is adorned the most."

Porter Baxter is accused by a Vermonter of electioneering with a twelve quart pail full of whiskey.

Perpetual Calendar

"A CALENDAR FOR THE CHRISTIAN Era, combining the Julian and Gregorian modes of reckoning time, by James Rumley, of N. C."

Copyright Secured.

The subscriber having copy righted this most valuable of all the "Calendars" ever presented to the public, is prepared to supply the demand for them to any extent.

Previous Efforts.

Many attempts have been made, from time to time, to secure a Calendar by which all the dates of the Christian Era could be accurately and at the same time readily, found. These attempts have heretofore signally failed, because the authors have sought to condense too much, and because they are really not conversant with the subject of which they treated, and which they vainly endeavored to elucidate.

What I claim.

I claim for the Calender, now presented, perfect simplicity of arrangement, combined with the most infallible accuracy. The plan is so simple that any one who can use an ordinary Almanac or Counting House Calendar, can see clearly into the working of this [illegible] past, present or future can be found.—Its accuracy [illegible] of the most rigid [illegible]isms, and confidently appeal [illegible]ghtened public judgment [illegible]sion of opinion as to its merits.

Supplies a Want.

To supply a want long [illegible] author has appended to the [illegible] for the head of "Explanations" a succinct, but most [illegible] of the Julian Calendar, and of Julius Caesar, and of [illegible]es which led to the [illegible]

SHOULD HAVE IT.

[illegible] professional men, merchants and tradesmen generally should furnish themselves with copies at $1.00.

TESTIMONIALS.

One of the first mathematical minds of this country, Prof. Charles Phillips of the University of North Carolina, thus speaks of the Calendar:

UNIVERSITY OF N. C.
Thursday, June 21, 1866

Col. S. D. POOL,

Dear Sir

I thank you for the pleasure I have had in examining your perpetual Calendar. It is a thing of beauty—simple, extensive and accurate—Every one who refers to dates ought to have a copy of it; the man of business, for the present; the student of history, for the past; and the dabbler in prophecy for the future. To use it, with readiness and precision, one needs only brain enough to remember the year,—the month of the year,—the week of the month and the day of the week and this is about as little brain as one can get along with in these times. I found out at once some things I did not know before, viz: that the 4th July 1776 happened on Thursday, and that the 4th of July 1876 will happen on Tuesday—Also, I was born on Thursday—a truth that is not in the family Bible. I am afraid you will never be paid for your trouble for if the thing wont wear out, it wont get out of date.

Again I thank you for my treasure.

Your Respectfully
CHARLES PHILLIPS.

Gov. Swain, President of the University says: "he entirely concurs with Prof Phillips in the views he entertains concerning the value of your Almanac."

The Newbern Commercial having thoroughly examined the Calendar thus writes of it:

A Curious Calendar.—We have received from our esteemed co-temporary, Col. S. D. Pool of the Goldsboro' News, a most simple yet erudite work, entitled "A Calendar of Dates for the Christian Era, Combining the Julian and Gregorian Modes of Reckoning time." At the request of Col. Pool, who is the proprietor of this unique production, we have carefully examined it, and find it to be one of the least pretentious and most curious publications of the day. By its use we can readily find, by the Gregorian or New Style, the day of the week, answering to any given day of the month, or the day of the month answering to any given day of the week, from the year 1600 to any future period, while the Gregorian calendar remains unaltered; and can find the same by the Julian, or Old Style, in any former year of our era or in any year to come.

The Dominical letters of the Julian calendar are introduced into the table, because that calendar was in use in this country and Great Britain until September, 1752, and was in use in Christian countries until those countries adopted the Gregorian calendar, and actually is now in use in Russia. Although we have the inclination, we have not space to speak of this excellent chart as we would like, but we will say that the established reputation of Col. Pool, as a superior scholar, will not suffer by its publication under his auspices.

The author is Mr. James Rumley of Beaufort, N. C. who, during the war, undertook its production as a labor of love, and presented it to his friend, Col. Pool as a token of his friendship and esteem. The price is fifty cents, and it is for sale by Col. Pool.

Numerous other testimonials to the value of this ingenious, scientific and valuable work could be adduced, if necessary; but we deem the above sufficient to bring it to the attention of the public. When once examined its merits are at once disclosed.

PRICE.

On Large cards 10x14, neatly printed, for Counting room, Office, or Library: Fifty cents per single copy; Four dollars for ten copies; Thirty five dollars per hundred.

COTTON GINS.

MANUFACTURED BY

W. G. CLEMONS, BROWN & CO.,

COLUMBUS, GA.

WE HAVE RESUMED THE MANUFacture of Cotton Gins in this city, and will be prepared to fill orders by 1st June next. As we shall not be, as heretofore represented by travelling agents, parties wishing our Gins will confer a favor by sending in their orders at an early day. As owing to the demand we shall be unable to keep a stock in the hands of our local agents, as it was our practice before the war. All business transactions being now reduced to cash our sales will be made on the basis of ready pay.

Our Gins are too well known to require any special notice or commendation; we believe they are unrivaled in the chief points of excellence which go to make up a superior machine, namely: Speed, light draught and good sample.

Our DOUBLE CYLENDER GINS will be found superior to the single cylinder, when parties have steam or good water power, to give them the necessary speed In all cases when this can be done, we recommend them in preference to the single cylinder. If, however, indifferent or insufficient power is used, they will not do as well as the single Gin.

Messrs. DeROSSET & CO, Wilmington, N. C., are our general agents for the State of North Carolina.

AT THEIR

Albany Agricultural Works, Albany, N. Y.

The public are hereby notified that in order to insure to them the Genuine Machines above mentioned, the Patentees and Manufacturers, (successors of Emery Brothers) have appointed Dunn, Plummer & Co., Petersburg, Va., as their Sole Agents for this city and vicinity, for their manufacturer's prices, with Transportation added. As other parties are selling Gins without the improvements which have given these Machines superiority and unexampled success, we are offering them to the public only the same representations, and our object is to prevent the imposition upon disappointments of purchasers who desire the well established and approved Machines manufactured only by us.

THE UNIVERSAL COTTON GIN AND CONDENSER of Horace L. Emery's Patent, may be readily distinguished by their having the PICKERS ROLL SUPPORTER suspended midway in the hopper over the saws, for supporting and moving the COTTON ROLL and preventing all possibility of choking or bridging of Cotton in the hopper from any cause. Also the [illegible]pply openings to an air chamber over the Brush Cylinder, and the words "HORACE L. EMERY'S PATENT" and Albany Agricultural Works, in raised and stenciled letters upon different parts of the Machine.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU gives health and vigor to the frame and bloom to the pallid cheek. Debility is accompanied by many alarming symptoms, and if no treatment is submitted to, consumption, insanity or epileptic fits ensue.

TO THE WOMEN OF THE SOUTH.

The end we propose is the cause of the South. It has neither party, nor section, nor division. The obligations of the survivors to the memory of the martyrs of the war address the South as one family, wherein, though there will be degrees of affliction and bereavement, none are without sorrow and grief. It is not, however, to hearts crushed by personal sorrows so much as to gratitude cherished for noble deeds by noble men, we appeal. With this the southern heart throbs with one impulse, and is ready to testify its inextinguishable sympathy.

It shall be our endeavor to rescue from the oblivion to which they are passing the graves of the great host which perished in the war, and sleep undistinguished in our cemetery. Their memory, history will transmit from age to age, propounding without number illustrious examples from which the noblest of every age may catch new inspiration. We propose the humbler tribute yet the more touching to relatives and friends, and even to the general heart,—that of identifying with durable monuments the ground where sleep the honored dead—tempting thither by its becoming habitude the countless throng, who would do homage to such dead. Our designation is "Hollywood Memorial Association of Richmond"—pledged to apply the means which may be provided to the permanent protection and adornment of the graves of the Confederate dead interred in Hollywood Cemetery. Those contributing to the association will be enrolled as members; and contributions may be remitted to the Treasurer, MRS. CHAS. G. BARNEY, Box 810; and letters addressed to the Corresponding Secretary, MRS. DR. JAS. BOLTON. Information will be furnished at all times by the President and by any member of the Memorial Committee.

MRS. WM. H. MACFARLAND,
President H. M. A.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE.

MRS. GEORGE E. DABNEY,
MRS. GEORGE A. BARKSDALE,
MRS. DR. J. S. DORSEY CULLEN,
MRS. JAMES A. COWARDIN,
MRS. DR. ROBERT W. HANALL.

There is but one thing left us, as a people which no enemy's hand can wrench from us:—"The memory of the Past"—Let us then keep bright the most precious jewel in our crown of sorrow"—the graves of our glorious dead. Let a people's gratitude lay immortal laurels o'er

"The sacred grave
Of those who vainly brave
Died for the land they could not save."

Virginia calls to us to assist herin the sad pleasure of perpetuating the memory of our fallen, in the eyes of the world, by erecting fitting monuments in Hollywood Cemetery, at Richmond. The work is one in which every Southern woman should delight to do her best.

I appeal to the women of North Carolina to come forward and aid their sister State, in paying the last tribute to the defenders of our "Lost Cause," remembering with feelings of just pride, that thousands of our heroic soldiers sleep well on the soil of Virginia.

I shall take pleasure in forwarding to the Treasurer of the Hollywood Memorial Association, any contributions I may receive for this purpose.

☞ All contributions will be acknowledged through the columns of the Goldsboro' Daily News.
